

Hillsboro Man Named City School Superintendent OSLO FALLS BEFORE GERMAN INVASION

FIVE-YEAR CONTRACT GIVEN TO E. E. HOLT

To Begin Duties June 16; Salary To Be $5,200 for First Year.

Edward E. Holt, 38, head of the Hillsboro, O., schools, last night was elected unanimously to become superintendent of Marion public schools, starting June 16.

Mr. Holt was given a five-year contract, starting at a salary of $5,200 which will increase $100 annually to a maximum of $5,600 at the end of the five-year period.

Action electing Mr. Holt and setting his salary was taken at a called meeting of the board of education at 8:15 at the administration building.

Mr. Holt, one of 55 applicants for the position, came to Marion yesterday at the request of the board and was present at the 20-minute session in which he was hired.

The board unanimously passed the resolutions made by Dr. R. T. Morgan and seconded by Dr. E. L. Thomas, electing Mr. Holt superintendent.

Two resolutions were necessary in accordance with state law which forbids a board of education to hire a superintendent for longer than five years and sets Aug. 1 as the date of issuing a superintendent's contract.

The term of the present superintendent, C. A. Hudson, expires June 15, according to an agreement entered into with a previous board in June of 1939 when he was hired for one year. The agreement was reaffirmed by the present board at its first meeting in January.

A ruling of the attorney general's office permits a board which has given a five-year contract to employ the applicant as an "acting superintendent" if there is a period of time between the expiration of a predecessor's contract and Aug. 1, Clerk J. D. Torrance explained. Such a condition exists in Marion, the clerk pointed out. Mr. Holt was hired as "acting superintendent" for a period from June 16 to July 31, his salary during the six-week period to be pro-rated on the $5,200 basis.

Mr. Holt's maximum salary at the end of the five years will be the same as that Mr. Hudson is receiving now in his sixth year as head of the schools.

A five-year contract at the start of a superintendent's tenure is "a bit unusual," the clerk said, adding that in the instance of Mr. Holt the maximum was given "due to our confidence and the feeling that we know what he can do."

He has a big job and this five-year contract will give him confidence to go on and carry out his plans for the schools. It also is an expression of the board's confidence in him.

At Hillsboro Since 1932

Mr. Holt is now serving the second year of a four-year contract as superintendent of the Hillsboro schools in Highland county. He became superintendent at Hillsboro in 1932 and his present contract was given in 1938.

He said the Hillsboro board of education has known for several weeks that he has been favorably considered by the Marion board and gave him a verbal agreement that he would be released from his present contract if he should be hired at Marion.

Mr. Holt said yesterday that he and his wife and two children, Jack, 15, and June, 4, will move to Marion some time before June 16. He said he would be in Marion frequently from now on for conferences with Mr. Hudson and to become more fully acquainted with the school system. The Hillsboro schools will be dismissed May 24 for summer vacation.

Electing of Mr. Holt came exactly five weeks after the board took its first action to employ a successor to Mr. Hudson. At the regular meeting, March 4, it was voted to compile lists of prospects, notify them of the vacancy, and ask them, if interested, to confer with the board. Mr. Holt was one of the men who received the notice and invitation.

The original list was made up of 45 prospects, Clerk Torrance said yesterday. Although the list was considered a "closed invitation" group, other applications were received which brought the final list to 55. One of the applications was received by Mr. Torrance last night just before he left his office to attend the called meeting of the board.

The list included school men from Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania and West Virginia, Mr. Torrance said.

By two weeks ago the board had narrowed the list of applicants to the place that only a few trips out of the city were necessary before the selection was made.

Board Visits Hillsboro

The trip to Hillsboro was made a week ago last Friday, at which time board members made a cross-section investigation of Mr. Holt's standing among the business, professional and laboring classes as well as the pupils and teachers with whom he has worked in Hillsboro.

In every instance, members said yesterday, Mr. Holt was held in highest regard and regret was expressed at the prospect of his leaving when it became known that the Marion board was considering him for the superintendency.

President Harry J. Barnhart, who presided for the brief session last night, said the matter of selecting a successor to Principal K. H. Marshall at Harding High school will be left entirely to the new superintendent.

The selection of a principal at the high school will be one of the first duties of Mr. Holt.

PROJECTS FOR NEW CCC CAMP TAKING FORM

Landowners Busy Setting Up
Ditch Improvements for Marion Co. Camp.

Organization of local sponsoring groups for drainage work to be done by the civilian conservation corps is moving along rapidly, it was reported today by F. A. Daum, superintendent of the soil conservation service, who outlined the steps necessary to set up individual projects.

First group to be formed is the Kannel ditch association. It is composed of Big Island and Salt Rock township landowners. The proposed project is to consist of repair and reconstruction of an eight-mile stretch of the ditch through the land of eight property owners.

In creating a ditch project, Mr. Daum pointed out, the first item of consideration is to determine that the channel is a legal ditch. Elaborating, he said, the work must be on a county or township ditch constructed by assessment prior to 1935. Government work programs may not be set up for private drainage areas.

Forms for Landowners

Landowners desiring a project on a legal ditch are required to file right-of-way forms. These give authority for officials to enter private lands for a preliminary examination and survey. The forms must be signed by all affected property owners.

Upon filing of right-of-way papers, CCC officials survey the area to determine if the project merits further consideration. They arrive at the estimated cost, which is submitted to an organization of parties interested in the ditch. The body, usually referred to as a ditch association, elects its own officials and collects funds covering the sponsors' share of the work.

Funds furnished by the sponsoring group includes cost of materials, rental of equipment, maintenance of government equipment and for wages of machine or drag line operators. In no case is the association assessed for labor or engineering services provided by the conservation corps.

Erosion Work Necessary

In the cases of open ditches the CCC engineers require that certain bank slopes be created and seeded to help arrest further erosion. Slopes must be from two to three feet for each foot in height, as determined by the engineers. Seeding materials and items used for the construction of head walls or control dams are included in the sponsors' share of the project.

In the Kannel ditch association, already formed, all property owners have signed and submitted right-of-way forms. The organization is now in the process of collecting funds.

JR. C. OF C. URGES VOTERS TO REGISTER

Campaign Launched; Sign Is Erected at Court House.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce launched its "get out the vote" campaign yesterday, directing its efforts at the 2,500 or so Marionites who have failed to register for the May 14 primaries.

A large sign, 12 feet long and three feet high, was installed on the south side of the courthouse under the electric American flag last night. It reads:

"Six Days to Register."

Each morning the number of days will be changed as the registration deadline, Monday, April 15, at 6:30 p. m., approaches.

The Jaycee committee also plans to use a sound truck in its campaign later this week and cruise through the city appealing for the citizens to qualify for voting in May.

The committee went on record today urging Marionites to take advantage of their American privilege of voting as they please a right fast disappearing in the world today. In order to exercise that right, the citizens must qualify for registering.

The committee pointed to the importance of the coming primaries when candidates for county, state and national offices will be nominated.

If you don't have pick candidates, you can't have good officials, the committee reasons.

NAZI TROOPS ENTER NORSE CITY AFTER TAKING COPENHAGEN

WAR DEVELOPMENTS AT A GLANCE

By The Associated Press

London—Germany invades Norway and Denmark; Norwegians fight back; Denmark succumbs without apparent resistance; Britain pledges full military and naval aid to Norwegians; Chamberlain says major British naval units are at sea; accuses Germany of planning invasion before British mis-laying.

Berlin—Germany strikes into Scandinavia accusing allies of plans for similar step soon; Denmark and Norway urged to refrain from resisting; high command announces "occupation of the most important objectives in all Norway" is proceeding rapidly; reich intends occupation for duration of war to protect vital supply sources.

Paris—Emergency cabinet meeting promises full aid to Norway; Oslo radio says Norwegian government fled to Hamar after four German warships repulsed from Oslofjord; Bergen and Trondheim occupied.

Belgrade—High authority reports Germany demands Yugoslavia, Hungary, Bulgaria and Rumania accept German police patrol along Danube to protect reich's vital supply route.

Washington—United States Minister, Mrs. Harriman, reports "Norway at war with Germany."

The Hague—Netherlands frightened by Scandinavian invasion; further army leaves cancelled.

Rome—Italy silent on new stroke by axis partner; German ambassador visits Premier Mussolini.

GERMAN land, sea and air forces today invaded Norway and Denmark, quickly capturing their capitals, Oslo and Copenhagen.

Other strategic points fell, too, before the Nazi onslaught extending the European war far into Scandinavia. Situated at Germany's mercy, Denmark gave in without a struggle as far as was known.

Norway put up a fight. The government fled to Hamar, 80 miles north of Oslo. The United States minister, Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, followed the government and said the Norwegian royal family also had gone to Hamar.

Dispatches reaching Stockholm said the Norwegians had set up a defense line between Oslo and Hamar and had shot down two German planes.

Paris heard the allied fleet already was fighting engagements with the German fleet off the Norwegian coast.

Claims Invasion Long Planned

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 9.—Prime Minister Chamberlain declared in the house of commons today that German plans for the invasion of Norway and Denmark were "made and put into operation" long before the allies laid mines in Norwegian waters Monday.

"Otherwise some of the troops which have landed in Norway already would not have been there," Chamberlain declared.

He said that the British government had "at once assured the Norwegian government that in view of the invasion his majesty's government had decided forthwith to extend full aid to Norway and will fight the war in full association with them."

Powerful units of the British navy are at sea, Chamberlain declared.

"This fresh rash and cruel act of aggression will redound to Germany's disadvantage and contribute to her ultimate defeat," he said.

"Powerful units of the navy are at sea," Chamberlain continued. "The members will realize that it will not be in the public interest to give details at this stage."

Germany Strikes by Land, Sea, Air

By LOUIS P. LOONER

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, April 9.—Germany invaded Norway and Denmark by land, sea and air today. Germany announced she had extended "armed protection" to these states "to counteract British aggression" against their neutrality.

By this afternoon German armed forces had occupied Copenhagen, capital of Denmark, which did not resist, and Oslo, the capital of Norway, where Norwegian troops put up what the Germans called "slight local resistance."

(The allies announced they would extend Norway "full aid" and intimated they would "fight the war in full association with Norway.")

Report Occupation

This afternoon the German high command announced that "occupation of the most important objectives in all Norway by German troops is proceeding rapidly."

Infantry, troops, naval forces and air squadrons took part in the Norwegian occupation.

"At most points," said the allies.

Invasion of Norway Presents Three Important Problems in Washington

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The explosive spread of Europe's war to Scandinavia confronted the administration with three urgent problems today:

1. The safety of some 2,000 American nationals caught in the new theater of hostilities.

2. The question of a new presidential proclamation formally designating Norway—and perhaps Denmark—as a belligerent under the neutrality act.

3. The matter of protecting American shipping interests in the invaded countries, and possible action on extending the prescribed combat zone to include the waters around the north cape.

Decision on the steps the government would take awaited the return of President Roosevelt and

Secretary of State Hull to the capital.

DONATIONS FOR FINNS HIT $500 MARK HERE

Gifts Still Sought As County Sends in Another Check.

Marion's annual sympathy for the stricken people of Finland has been expressed with contributions which have sent the county's total for Finnish relief to approximately $500, George E. Plank, county chairman, announced today.

Yesterday he sent a check for $44.57 to the Hoover Finnish Relief headquarters in New York City.

Throughout the country the relief organizations are being asked to maintain places at which contributions will be coming in. Mr. Plank said, and he has arranged with the banks, The Star office and the Palace theater to continue to receive funds.

According to estimates received from the national headquarters in New York City donations so far from throughout the country amount to about $4 per person among those in need in Finland. The amount falls short of the desperate need, and for that reason the various groups throughout the country working for Finnish relief are being asked to continue their efforts.

BOARD TO SUPERVISE JOB REINSTATEMENT

NLRB Aids Will Come to Ohio Steel Mills.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The national labor relations board plans to send representatives into Ohio within two weeks to speed reinstatement of thousands of Republic Steel Corp. employees, officials said today.

The supreme court refused to review a board order directing the nation's third largest steel producer to reinstate and pay back wages to workers who participated in the 1937 "little steel" strike.

Reinstatement, however, stated its compliance would "not involve any serious reemployment problem" since "the greater number of strikers had long since been returned to work."

The board considered establishing branches in Ohio cities where Republic plants are located, including Cleveland, Youngstown, Canton, Massillon and Warren.

The number of employees affected by the order was estimated at 8,000.

ization is headed by C. C. Uhl, as president, and Lulu Coon, secretary-treasurer. Next step will be a survey conducted by CCC engineers. It is likely that the survey will be started next week.

R. W. DeWesse of Delaware, a CCC engineer, is expected to come here next week to open preliminary surveys, Mr. Datum reported.

Because the canal project involves a life ditch it will be necessary to open sections to determine the condition of the life.

Groups of CCC enrollees from the camp at Attica probably will be sent here to assist engineers with the survey.

Meets With Sponsors

Mr. Datum conferred last night with a group of landowners interested in a similar project on Kinder Run in Pleasant and Prospect townships. Their meeting was held at the Pleasant township school. Nine property owners were present and they were to begin today the task of obtaining right-of-way permits from landowners along the three-mile section to be affected. Mr. Datum will attend similar meetings of landowners Wednesday night at Ashtabula in connection with the Kinder Run project and at Prospect, Thursday night, about another drainage area.

Thus far landowners in approximately 15 different drainage areas have signified their hope of establishing projects, Mr. Datum reported. These are in various stages of organization, most of them as personal surveys, being made by interested individuals to determine if other affected landowners desire drainage programs.

Plenty of Projects

That enough work soon will be available for a local CCC camp was indicated in Mr. Datum's report that 45 projects are virtually ready to start. These originally were submitted to the CCC camp at Delaware but were not begun before the camp was abandoned two years ago. For the most part they affect drainage areas in southern Marion county. They will be transferred to the Marion camp, when it is established, providing immediate work for enrollees.

Work on the CCC camp site thus far has been confined to a survey of the 10-acre tract which it will occupy. Establishment of the camp is not expected until early June when, according to tentative arrangements, another Ohio camp will be transferred here. It may be placed in operation earlier, however. In the event that legislative action provides sufficient funds for opening a new camp.

CCC enrollees now stationed at Attica probably will be brought here to assist in preparing the camp site and erecting buildings. Structures for housing and recreational facilities will be shipped here prefabricated.

termion communique, "slight local resistance by Norwegian troops has ceased."

A dispatch from Copenhagen by DNB, the official German news agency, said that the Danish government had accepted the German "protection" with a "protest" in view of the circumstances and conditions of the protection.

Danes Call Cabinet

The Danish government, after receipt of a memorandum from Germany explaining the invasion, summoned the cabinet, which then agreed to acknowledge the provisions put forth in the German note.

The German radio, informing its audiences of progress of the Nazi forces northward, hinted at possible blows in other quarters but did not make clear whether the Netherlands or the Balkans were meant.

It seemed certain Germany was keeping an especially watchful eye on the Danube to the southeast.

One announcer also said that in the Netherlands "there is great fear they might become the victims of Britain's violent policy."

Germany gave the signal to march northward less than 24 hours after British warships steamed into Norway's territorial waters to now three mine fields to cut off German iron ore shipments from Sweden through Norwegian coastal lanes.

As the troops marched, German laid mine fields of her own "for the protection" of the German operations. (London reported German mines were laid at the entrance to the most important Norwegian and Swedish harbors.)

"In order to counteract British aggression under way against the neutrality of Denmark and Norway," said an official communique, "German armed forces have assumed the armed protection of these states."

"For this reason strong German forces of all army units entered and landed this morning in these two countries."

"For protection of these operations extensive mine barriers have been laid."

"For months England and France have attempted to make a new battlefield out of Scandinavia. As a forerunner of the intended occupation of important Norwegian points, the English government yesterday invaded Norwegian sovereignty. The Norwegian government answered with a lame protest only."

Won't Stand By

"The German government, however, does not intend on this part only to protest against this British breach of international law. Therefore, today she took those steps necessary to take northern Europe definitely out of the British plans for extending the war."

In a blistering statement, delivered personally to assembled press representatives of many nations, Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop charged the western powers with plotting to extend the war to the north and declared that the reich had "assumed responsibility" for protecting Scandinavian neutrality.

"Violation of Norwegian neutrality by England yesterday," said Von Ribbentrop, "constitutes the most flagrant case thinkable." He apparently referred to British mining of Norwegian waters.

"This breach worthily follows that whole series which began with the bombardment of Copenhagen in 1907 and has continued until today."

The purpose was to transform the Scandinavian space into a war area to attack our country from the north. Yesterday's move was part one of the plot, and since has been underscored by unrestrained torpedoing by English submarines of every type of ship coming before their keel.

"Part two," the foreign minister continued, "was to follow immediately, namely, the occupation of all Scandinavia, including Sweden. For only by occupation of Sweden would England and France have been in a position to cut off Germany from Swedish ore supplies."

"Therefore, troops were to move in upon us from the north toward the south. We already had news that general army and navy staff officers from the allied side were in Scandinavia picking landing places."

"I am convinced that through the act of our foeher that angry and worthy section of Europe which lies north of us has been spared the ravages of war."

first important matters to come before Mr. Holt.

Before going to the Hillsboro school system Mr. Holt served as superintendent of the Georgetown, O., schools from 1925 to 1932.

From 1922 to 1925 he was superintendent of the Hillsboro, O., schools. He began his public school career in 1921 as a high school teacher at the East town school in Brown county.

He holds a permanent superintendent's certificate and a life certificate as a high school teacher.

Active in Education Groups

Mr. Holt is a member of the American Association of School Administrators, the National and Ohio Education associations, the Cincinnati Schoolmasters' club, the Southwestern Ohio Teachers' association of which he is the present treasurer, and the local teachers' organizations in Hillsboro vicinity.

He has had experience in several school building programs and the reorganization of two school systems. In Hillsboro a building program was successfully carried out following the general recommendations of Dr. T. C. Holy of Ohio State university who made a school survey there in 1931-32.

He is a member of the board of managers of the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers and is a member of the national committee on character education of the congress.

His experience in professional organizations includes service as director and as vice president of the Cincinnati Schoolmasters' club; as a member of the executive committee, as secretary, as vice president and as president of the Western Ohio Superintendents' and Principals' Round Table, which includes Delaware, Dayton, Columbus, Cincinnati, Piquette, Troy, Hamilton and New Richmond, as treasurer and member of the executive committee of the Exempted Village Superintendents' and Principals' Association.

Served on State Groups

At the invitation of the state director of education he has served on advisory committees in Ohio studying problems of transportation, handicapped children and school finance.

The Hillsboro school was one of 200 schools which participated in a nationwide study of secondary schools under the guidance of "The Cooperative Study of Secondary Schools Committee," sponsored by the several accrediting organizations in the United States. He served on an Ohio committee to preview the standards for rating schools in this study.

Six years ago, at the invitation of the U. S. Commissioner of Education, he attended a Washington, D. C., conference of 20 persons representing a cross-section of communities of all sizes in the United States. The conference was held to consider youth problems and to advise on the proposed program for adult youth in this country. Later he concluded a survey of youth problems in Hillsboro for the United States Office of Education.

In Hillsboro community affairs he is at present a member of the public library board and a director of the Business Men's association.

In discussing his experiences he told the board in his formal application that "the sole purpose in mind is giving your board an estimate of the extent of my experience. However, I want to stress the fact that my work in the schools comes first with me and that I do not undertake other work to the neglect of my school responsibilities."

Native of Ohio

Mr. Holt, whose full name is Edward Ernest Holt, is a native of southern Ohio. He received his diploma from West Union High school in 1915. He attended Miami university and the University of Chicago and in 1925 received his bachelor of arts degree from Wilmington college at Wilmington, O. His master of arts degree was awarded by Miami university at Oxford, O., in 1936.

His wife was a teacher before their marriage, receiving her training at Ohio university at Athens.

They are members of the Presbyterian church and in Hillsboro Mr. Holt is an elder in the church. He has represented the church at meetings of synod and the general assembly and has served on the Christian education and Cincinnati Presbyteries.

as to any operations in which they are now engaged."

Chamberlain said of reports that German troops had invaded Trondheim, northern Norwegian Atlantic port, that the nearest German port, Cuxhaven, was 700 miles away and that even if an expedition had started immediately after the allied announcement of the mining of Norwegian waters it could not have arrived yet unless the invasion had been premeditated.

Swedish iron ore, moving down the Norwegian coastal waters to Germany, was the smouldering fuse which set off the bombshell and gave the allies at last their long-sought flanking position against Germany.

The German onslaught against the two Scandinavian nations early today probably came while British patrol ships were fighting a heavy battle with German units.

The British admiralty refused comment on renewed reports that such a big engagement had taken place or was still in progress, but responsible quarters felt that the German occupation was impossible unless the British fleet was being kept busy elsewhere.

British warships were known to have been patrolling the Norwegian coast, and 123 German naval vessels, ranging from small boats to heavy cruisers, were sighted in the Skagerrak yesterday.

Reports from a variety of sources including the Oslo radio, the German news agency, DNB, and Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, United States minister to Norway, placed together this striking list of events.

German troops simultaneously moved northward across the Danish border and landed at Copenhagen, taking over that city's citadel and radio station. There were no reports of opposition as all Denmark fell into German hands.

Warship Repelled

Four German warships tried to force the Oslo fjord, water entrance to the Norwegian capital, and were at first repelled by shore batteries. Another attempt was made by a single ship which ran aground.

Norwegian planes battled German air raiders overhead while Oslo was under an air raid alarm throughout the morning.

German troops landed on the southern coast while German military and naval units seized the strategic ports of Vaels, Bergen, Trondheim and Narvik. Christiansand was bombarded by German warships and planes. Frognar was bombed from the air about noon.

The Norwegian government called all citizens to their homes and ordered removal of civilians from Oslo within two days, and itself fled to Hamar, 80 miles north of Oslo.

Mrs. Harriman took over the duties of the British and French ministers to Norway, the reason for this not being made clear.

Germany announced she had mined all the coastal waters, including ports of Sweden.

Some circles suggested the crews of German freighters awaiting ore cargoes there might have been responsible for seizure of Narvik.

Responsible circles in London said the Germans had seized the port of Egersund, the ocean cable head.

Denmark Not Included

The authoritative British press association said the British foreign office promised to fight for Norway did not mention Denmark because it was impossible at the moment to evaluate the situation in that country.

All Danish ferry service to Sweden was stopped.

German authorities announced over the Danish radio that they had occupied a number of points of military importance.

Radio listeners were directed to stay tuned in all day to get "a number of practical announcements."

In London and Paris there were diplomatic and cabinet sessions. Sweden, nervously sitting on the rim of the cauldron, was reported to have ordered complete mobilization.

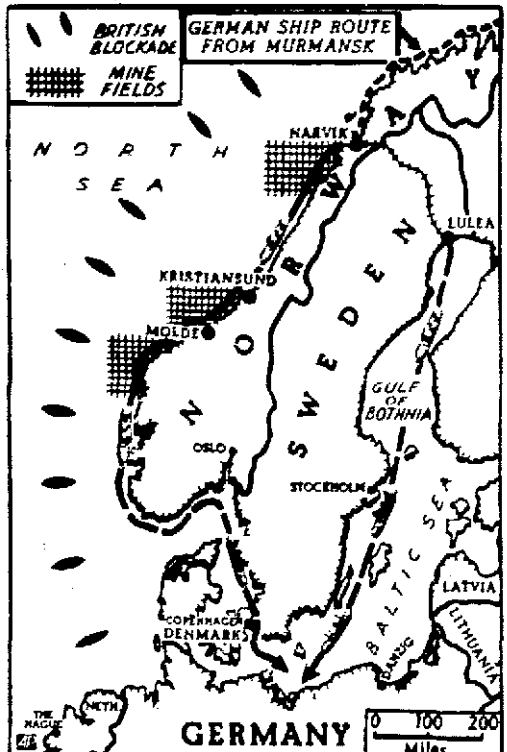

This afternoon the British house of commons was meeting to hear Prime Minister Chamberlain discuss the course of the war.

German radio announcements as intercepted here said:

"The high command of the German army announces that in order to counteract the actions against Denmark and Norway and to prevent a possible hostile attack against these countries, the German army has taken these two countries under its protection."

"The strong forces of the German army have therefore invaded these countries this morning."

Have Only 250,000 Men for War Duty

By The Associated Press

The combined forces of Denmark and Norway, even if at full war strength, are a mere 250,000 men against the military might of the German reich.

DuPuy's late work of the 20th century and armaments of the world notes that Denmark is dominated by adjacent Germany and may easily be overrun by her neighbor.

The Scandinavian nations hold the key to the Baltic sea, entrance to which only can be effected through the Skagerrak and Kattegat, except for the Kiel canal in German territory.

Denmark's army comprises three divisions and six regiments, with a strength of 161,000 and peace strength of 11,000. Her air force of 90 ships is considered entirely negligible. Her navy consists of two antiquated coast defense battleships, one cruiser-mine-layer, 20 torpedo boats and 12 submarines.

Norway's army, of nine brigades, a battalion of artillery and some fortress troops has a war strength of 90,000, peace strength of 30,000 and her air force is 100 planes.

The Norwegian navy consists of four coast defense battleships, eight destroyers, nine submarines and a number of smaller craft.

2 FARM BELT STATES

TEST CANDIDATES' POWER

By The Associated Press

Nebraska and Illinois Hold Primaries Today.

Nebraska and Illinois provided two more farm belt tests today of the popularity of the Roosevelt third term movement and of Thomas E. Dewey, campaigning for the Republican presidential renomination.

Dewey, who won Wisconsin's 24 Republican delegates last week over Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan, was matched against the state opponent in the Nebraska primary. He had no party opposition in Illinois.

The Democratic situation was the reverse. President Roosevelt, who has given no hint as to whether he would accept another nomination, was unopposed in Nebraska. In Illinois, however, the third term forces reached a showdown with supporters of Vice president Garner.

Twofold interest centered on the Illinois voting for 50 national convention delegates. (Eight additional ones will be chosen in state conventions.)

LABOR PLANS CHALLENGE

OF JOB INSURANCE ORDER

Leaders To Seek Quick Court Test of Ruling.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 9.—A quick court challenge by labor loomed today for a far-reaching order to determine Ohio unemployment benefit payments from workers' actual earnings.

The order from the bureau of unemployment compensation's board of review, announced yesterday, decreed that "the actual earnings of an employee shall be used for computing his average weekly wages" from which benefits are determined.

Asserting he was required to abide by the decree, HUC Administrator H. C. Atkinson said it would cause virtually no change in the present benefit average of $10.25 weekly because the decision "conforms with our present policy in its essential points."

Labor spokesmen contend that benefits should be computed on the basis of workers' full time weeks.

DEATH OF FORMER MARION

MAN CALLED SUICIDE

By The Associated Press

Ray McAmish, 39, of Columbus, reported to be a former Marion resident, died at Columbus last night from an overdose of sleeping tablets, The Associated Press reported.

Coroner Edward E. Smith of Franklin county described the death as an "undoubted case of suicide."

News reports from Columbus stated that Mr. McAmish, who also used the name Ray C. McFarland, moved to Columbus from Marion six months ago. The reports said that he was reared by a McFarland family here, using their name frequently.

Casting Tourney Scheduled

April 22 Event Feature of "Let's Go Fishing" Week
Sponsored by Lions Club.

A fishing tournament for Marion county men and boys will be held Monday, April 22, at the park under auspices of the Marion Lions Club. It is to be the first event of the "Let's Go Fishing" week sponsored by the Marion county Lions Club. The tournament will offer a silver trophy and a large bass taken from the waters in the 1940 season will sponsor "Let's Go Fishing" week from April 15 to May 1. The tournament will be divided into two divisions, a men's division for those over 18 years of age and a boys' division for those 18 years of age or younger. Each division will have four events, as follows:

Five-eight-ounce bait casting event for accuracy; fly-casting event for accuracy; five-eight-ounce distance event for bait casting; fly-casting event for distance. A contestant may enter as many events as he wishes. Fishing equipment prizes will be given the winners in each of the four events in the two divisions. The bait casting events will be held over the water of McKimley lake park and the fly casting events will be held on the broad park lawn facing South Prospect street.

Directors Named
Cecil Gabler of 295 Clover avenue has been named tournament director, with Robert Bush as his assistant.

In announcing the tournament Mr. Gabler said: "One of the greatest services our club could render the community, from a long-range point of view, would be to encourage young people to take up some constructive, out-of-door recreational activity."

He said the club had decided on the tournament because the age-old sport of fishing has universal appeal, is comparatively inexpensive, is a clean and healthful sport, is a sport where followers may continue to grow in proficiency, it affords an excellent opportunity to develop good sportsmanship and hence good citizenship, the natural facilities for fishing in Marion county are above average, and because fishing can become a year-round sport if various associated hobbies such as fly tying and rod making are practiced.

Main Objective
The primary purposes of the project are to give the youth and men of the county a clean, healthful and constructive recreational activity for their leisure time and to promote good sportsmanship and hence, good citizenship.

Merchants of Marion handling fishing equipment have designated their willingness to cooperate with the club by making window displays of equipment the week prior to the contest which will be known as "Let's Go Fishing Week," according to Mr. Gabler.

Registration in the tournament is free, but contestants must furnish their own casting equipment. Official five-eight-ounce plugs will be furnished for all bait casting events. Contestants for fly-casting events may furnish their own flies, with barbs removed. It is possible that a casting expert will be brought to Marion for a demonstration either prior to or on the day of the tournament, Mr. Gabler said.

On the executive committee with Mr. Gabler and Mr. Bush are Bill Williams, Gene Auld, Jack Danner, Bob Hicks, Dr. J. W. Smith and Forest Smith.

Mr. Danner, chairman, Thayer Martin, Mr. Bull, Dr. R. E. Elcher and Herbert Petrich comprise the committee on prizes and publicity and on the grounds and properties committee are Mr. Bush, chairman, Kenneth Bolinger, Bob Cunningham, G. L. Pierson and Forest Smith.

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(Associated Press Science Editor)
CINCINNATI, April 8.—"Please pass the grass" will be good dinner table etiquette if science confirms that man can eat grass as reported to the American chemical society here today.

Powdered grass would be used in a shaker about as sparingly as salt. It would furnish all the vitamins that come from all the fruits and vegetables.

Evidence that plain grass is the richest source of these vitamins was reported by W. R. Graham, G. O. Kohler and C. F. Schnabel of Kansas City, Mo. They have developed a powdered grass which can be added in cooking most foods, from flapjacks to deserts.

It can be put in bread, they said, without changing the flavor. Moreover, the bread and other foods won't turn green, because of a method of washing out the color without destroying vitamins.

Chemical analysis shows grass contains all the vitamins from A, the infection protector, to E, the fertility promoter, excepting only vitamin D, the bone hardener. Likewise fruits and vegetables do not contain D, although they supply chemicals which turn into D in the human body on exposure to sunlight.

Grass has 23 times more A than the fruits and vegetables, 8 times more B-1, the nerve vitamin, 21 times more B-2, the growth vitamin, and 14 times more C, the anti scurvy vitamin. Identified in grass also is the whole B-complex, including the pellagra preventor, nicotinic acid, and probably the recently found gray-hair-darkener vitamin.

Twelve pounds of grass was said to be a little more than equal in vitamins to the 340 pounds of fruits and vegetables which dietary surveys find the average person eats in one year.

Grass must be dried quickly in a flash high-temperature to preserve its vitamins.

CHAPTER FIVE
Mac's Champion

Mac had said to Brenda that she was not to be a real nuisance if she didn't suppress him," she told herself, smiling her sweetest as she let Dr. Wilson tell her about an epidemic of pink eye that had swept The Street nineteen years before.

"Why doesn't he marry his Isobel and be content with her? Any one can see she's mad about him. Eric Mason now is another story, too absorbed in his own concerns to do more than cast furtive glances about now and then. I wonder..." The dimples dipped so deeply that the old doctor stopped in the middle of a sentence, staring at her appreciatively.

"No, you're to behave yourself," her thoughts ran on admonishingly. "You're here to work, and for no other reason." Again the doctor was bewildered by her change of expression. She drew down the corners of her mouth, wrinkled her smooth forehead warningly.

"Did you say she's studying to be an actress, my dear?" the old man asked his daughter as they made their way home. "I should think she might make a very excellent one."

"No, a writer," the brief answer was given disapprovingly. Miss Wilson had literary aspirations herself. She wrote poems which invariably began with "Hail," and contained such beautiful words as "mine" and "monody," and at least every fifth one ended with "receive this from my hand." It was very sad for her that all the poems came back with neatly printed rejection slips. "Ridiculous to think a child like that can write!"

This, Brenda soon discovered, was more or less the opinion of The Street. As time went on and she grew to know intimately the ten families which comprised the neighborhood, she was chagrined to discover that only Hugh Saltus and the Abernathy twins sympathized at all with her ambitions. And the Abernathy twins did not count, since everyone on principle frowned upon their opinions.

They were, as they themselves confessed a scatterbrained pair; Elaine and Abner ("and what can you expect of people with names like that?") They lived in the old Abernathy house, "surrounded by law and order," to quote them again. By this they meant that on one side dwelt old Judge Harper who kept a more or less watchful eye on the grandchildren of his former partner, and on the other, Miss Judith Ormond, but nonetheless alert and energetic, directed the gaze of two singularly strong optics on the activities of her young neighbors.

"Mac's Tops" Miss Ormond had been a school teacher in her day; and her day had been a long one. When she had been retired upon reaching the age limit her fury knew no bounds. The Street resounded for weeks to the echoes of her fulminations against the school board. Finally she settled down to a task which was never neglected merely because it had been self-imposed: the guardianship of the morals, manners and general activities of the young people on The Shortest Street.

"She can't be bluffed, fooled, or outwitted," Isobel Burke told Brenda mournfully. "We've all tried it, you may be sure. Once Eric and I left the car two blocks from here and slipped in the back way. She telephoned Adelaide before breakfast to say I'd got a ticket for overnight parking. Mac usually adopts a simple system; he calls her up just before he starts out and tells her where he is going, and when he expects to be back, and what route he intends to follow. He says it saves them both wear and tear on the nervous system."

"Isobel, you're joking!" The red-haired girl said grimly: "Am I? Wait till you've dwelt among us a little longer! Wait till you go to a dance with Eric and don't get home until after three in the morning! The Ormond will call and inquire—ever so sweetly!—to ask if you caught cold coming in so late!"

"Why with Eric?" Brenda was diverted. "You always mention Eric as a possible cavalier on social occasions. How about the other men in the neighborhood?" Isobel shrugged. "There's Hugh Saltus—you know about him. A married man and therefore taboo as an escort. Ab Abernathy's loads of fun but he's so devoted to Elaine that he rarely separates. That leaves only Mac and Eric—which leaves only Eric."

Brenda inquired carelessly: "Anything the matter with Mac—as a companion, I mean?" An expression she had seen several times on the other girl's face shadowed it now.

"Mac is—" Isobel began, checked herself and swallowed. "Mac's tops, Brenda," she said quietly. "Don't make any mistake about that!" and then as Brenda did not reply, she went on: "He's terribly ambitious, for one thing; all wrapped up in his work. He does enough for two men. For another—" Again she paused. The younger girl looked at her in surprised question.

U. S. LOANS INCREASE RECEIPTS OF WHEAT

Markets Receiving Larger Volume Than Usual.

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, April 2.—A unique development in wheat marketing—heavy spring-time receipts at principal terminals is altering the routine of business in the grain trade.

Markets have been absorbing an abnormally big volume of supplies for this time of year due largely to the influx of grain which has been stored under government loans.

The wheat futures pit, where the risk of ownership of this grain is transferred from commercial interests to speculators who are willing and able to assume it, has been the focal point of this selling.

Many interests which have bought loan wheat have taken the risk in view of poor crop prospects and war conditions, without hedging purchases by selling an equivalent of futures.

More Grain on Market
In the past two months the 12 principal markets have received about 44 per cent more grain than they did in the corresponding period last year. Receipts have totaled 34,828,000 bushels compared with 24,148,000 the corresponding period a year ago.

Pit traders said the market has been able to absorb this spring hedging because war conditions and the poor domestic crop outlook have stimulated enough purchasing to offset it. Since the first of February wheat prices have fluctuated within a range of about 12 cents and have actually advanced 10 to 12 cents in the period. Current prices are only 1/2 to 1 cent below the season's peaks.

Thus, one of the purposes of the government loan program, designed to level the valleys and hills of grain marketings over the year in the hope of stabilizing prices have been accomplished. Above normal receipts at this time of year, just before harvest of the new crop, offset below

THOMAS AGAIN PICKED BY SOCIALISTS

First of the political parties to hold their national convention, the Socialists as usual select Norman Thomas, four times a presidential candidate, to head

Loans on most of the wheat export at the end of this month.

Approximately 167,000,000 bushels were stored under the loan. Inasmuch as prices since have advanced to levels 20 cents or more above loan rates, giving producers a net profit even after paying interest and storage charges, they have been paying off loans and marketing wheat to realize the advantage. This has resulted in redemption of about 70,000,000 bushels, much of which has been sold on the market.

What Would an X-RAY of Your House Reveal?

Behind your walls, under your floors, costly damage may be going on—without you knowing it. An astonishing percentage of structures in this section is being attacked by termites. These tiny wood-eating insects enter a building from the ground, and remain hidden inside the wood while they carry on their destructive work. They leave no outward evidence of the damage they are doing, and property owners seldom suspect the presence of termites until costly repairs become necessary.

Why not find out if your property is termite-infested? Phone us and a trained Termitis-Way-sensitive will inspect it—without cost or obligation. This is a free service offered by Termitis—the world's largest termite control organization.

WHY BE SATISFIED WITH SMALLER CARS WHEN DODGE COSTS SO LITTLE MORE!

Why 4,061 Engineers Bought Dodge in the Past 12 Months!

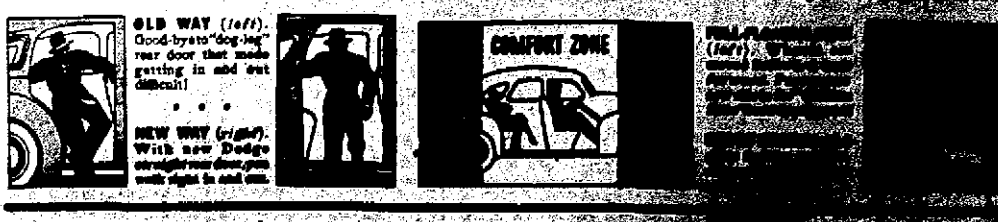

MOST ECONOMICAL! "Today's 1940 Dodge is the most economical of all cars," says W. A. Proett, Refrigeration Engineer, Los Angeles.

LOW UPKEEP! "Low gas and oil consumption, the small cost of upkeep, can be traced directly to one thing—Dodge Engineering," says Col. John A. Lebel, Mechanical Engineer, St. Louis.

GOODS MOVING BETTER! "Why do Dodge cars move so much better than any other car? Dodge Engineering," says George Y. Brown, Radio Engineer, Chicago.

GOOD ON THE ROAD! "Why do Dodge cars move so much better than any other car? Dodge Engineering," says George Y. Brown, Radio Engineer, Chicago.

LISTEN!

Mr. E. M. Collett tells how he bought a Big Dodge Luxury Liner...the Car engineers praise...for only $3.41 a month more than smaller, low-priced car!

Come In and See the New Luxury Liner, Greatest Car Dodge Ever Built!

DON'T let anyone tell you that you can't afford a Dodge Luxury Liner!

Just read what Mr. Ernest M. Collett, of Chicago, says: "Like a lot of people, I always thought I couldn't afford a big car."

"The price of the smaller, four-door sedan I nearly bought was only $61.23 less than the big, four-door Dodge sedan. Here's only a difference of $3.41 a month in my payments. And look how much more I got in a Dodge!"

"It gives me 'big car' performance and riding comfort! On top of this, I got something no other car could possibly give me—Dodge Engineering that means real economy on gas and oil and upkeep!"

Since Dodge costs so very little more to buy than a smaller car, why not make up your mind right away to start enjoying big-car comfort and luxury!

And don't forget—to millions of motorists no other name in the automobile industry means all that the name Dodge has come to mean. Dodge means dependability! It means brilliant manufacturing and sales craftsmanship. It means economy of operation...low cost of upkeep...longer life...and real savings on gas and oil.

Come to Dodge. Let us demonstrate the magnificent new 1940 Dodge to you.

HOSPITAL TESTS REVEAL GREAT DISCOVERY FOR CONSTIPATION

At last—here's an ideal, "daily" treatment for constipation with its headaches, mental distress, fatigue and nervous skin.

Tests in a world-famous hospital have proved a "little daily dose" of Kruschen (world-famous formula, now at last obtainable in pleasant tasting "building" form) actually produces nature's own gentle, pleasant, "daily" bowel movements by keeping the waste matter in the colon moist, soft and easy to expel.

Scientists report: "Kruschen can be taken for years without having to increase the dose." Also acts as a mild Antacid and Kidney Stimulant. Gives you MORE for your money, too! A jar that costs only a trifle lasts for WEEKS. Over 24,000,000 jars have been sold throughout the world. Kruschen MUST be good—it's MOST the world knows in U. S. A.
